Complaint of Negro Troops Only Pretext to Gain Sympathy, Says Galbraith.

A revival of a system of German propaganda, nationwide in scope, is indicated in the recent Madison Square Garden meeting that protested against the use of French African troops in Germany, Col. Frederick W. Galbraith, national commander of the American Legion, said yesterday.

Col. Galbraith intimated that his organization and others would soon adopt a definite stand concerning it. The leader, who made known that meetings of similar nature were planned in at least twenty-two other big cities, said that the attitude of the legion would be made plain in a the legion would be made plain in a day or two.

A resolution asking the State and New York district organization of the American Legion to recall the button and membership card of Lieut.-Col. A. E. Anderson of the old Sixty-ninth Regiment as punishment for his appearance as a speaker at the meeting was adopted last night at a meeting of the Manhattan Naval Post at 226 West Fifty-eighth street. Another resolution asked Gov. Miller to demand Col. Anderson's resignation from the Guard for his "un-American activities."

Posts of the American Legion and the National Security League, the American Defence Society, the Allied Loyalty League and other organizations that opposed the holding of the meeting based their objections mainly on the ground that this country was still at war with Germany, but since the meeting a new ground for complaint has arisen—the manner in which almost every speaker wandered from his subject to praise Germany and Germans in general. While Col. Galbraith insisted that the meeting, and those planned for other cities, use the presence of negro troops in Germany as a mere pretext, Dr. Edmund von Mach. chairman of the meeting and one of the organizers, was equally emphatic in his declaration that the sole purpose of the meeting was to force the removal of negro soldiers who were assaulting German women.

Save Women, Is Von Mach's Ples

"If the pro-French or pro-British elements in this country think we have any utterior metuve in holding these meetings, let them join with us in making them a success," he said. "If they will work with us to this end how can we accomplish anything else? We hope to save white women from degradation."

Dr. von Mach said that he believed in working for union of the German elements of the population. To show his own personal attitude he exhibited an article by himself published in the American Monthly (formerly the Fatherland), the organ of George Sylvester Viercek.

"Where are the men of German blood in America to-day." he inquires. "Article yo united that they can join any poirtual world union of their kinsmen in the expectation of bringing to it much of "The answer must be given in the negative. It was their passion for true Americanism and their hatred of Wilsonian disnoiesty which united them in the last Presidential campaign, but much work has yet to be done before all in whose veins flows German blood can be said to have found themselves. They have been too meek, too willing to live from the crumbs that fall from the table instead of proudly taking their seats at the head table, where they be-

"To wipe out these wrongs the German element here must unite. But no out die force can bring about this union. It must come from within. Unless the German element here is strong enough by dint of its own character it deserves, considering its numerical strength, the contumely which has been shown it."

"German propaganda has certainly been revived in this country." Col. Galbraith declared yesterday. "They have torn the scab from the wound. The people of German blood and language here were revaluing the respect of this country. Some day these deluded people of Germanic blood will rise up and devour their leaders."

"This matter is a thing affecting the whole American people." he replied when asked what the Legion is an organization of the men who fought the war, it is only one organization, and there are many others, I will be able to make a definite statement in a day or so. We don't want to go off half-cocked on this."

In the opinion of Dr. von Mach the meeting Monday night in Madison Square Garden did much good in that it called the attention of all New York to the fact that there were such conditions as warrant the use of the term 'the horror the Metropolitan Opera House here for a mass meeting to protest against occupation of German territory by French-African troops was cancelled to-day at a meeting of trustees of Lu Lu Tempie, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Revocation of the police permit for the meeting, scheduled for next Sunday, was ordered yesterday.

Joseph McGarrity, local leader of the Irish Republican movement, who held the lease, insisted to-day that the meeting nevertheless would be held, saying the documents were obtained through proper channels, and legal action would follow attempts to block the meeting.

W. Freeland Kendrick, potentate of Lu Lu Temple, lease of the building, said after the meeting of the trustees:

"The lease has been revoked and the meeting will not take place, regardless of what McGarrity says. It is a straight question of Americanism with us. We have no quarrel with McGarrity, but we consider that it would be unpatricite for the Shrine to allow a meeting to be held in the hall which would reflect men the Americanism of the organization."
